COMPANY PROFILE

"The most important goal is to create something that inspires others."

R&B FILM is a creative production company in Munich, Los Angeles, and Addis Ababa, founded by Jan Philipp Weyl in 2006. We transform ideas into fictional and documentary films with the ambition to raise consciousness and bring awareness to pressing issues around the globe. We believe in the importance of inspiring people to reflect about themselves and the world, while simultaneously creating entertainment, through film. We believe in the power of film and the impact that exceptional stories and human beings can have on individuals, as well as a society as a whole. We believe that the standard of excellence in our films, while supporting the creativity of our clients through rediscovering personal boundaries, are keys to artistic masterpieces.

We are grateful to do the work we are doing.
